- 2. Treat your pump with care. Throwing or dropping your pump may cause physical damage to the unit, and could harm or shock you.(Fig 3)
- 3. Do not lift pumps by their power cords - attempting to lift or support the pump by the power cord causes damage to the cord and cord connections.(Fig 4) Lift the pump by its handle only. If you need to lower the pump into position, use a rope attached to the loop provided above the handle.(Fig 5) You can also purchase the Mondī™ Water Pump Extension (C200), which can be used as a handle. - 4. If you use a water wand or pump extension with your Mondī™ pump make sure to turn the pump off when you are finished. Leaving the pump on with the valve on the water wand or the ball valve on the pump extension closed will restrict the flow of water and could burn out the pump and cause damage to its internal components.

- 5. Follow the National Electrical Code, Canadian Electrical Code, and local codes in regards to outlets and voltage for these pumps.
- 6. This equipment is designed only for use on 115V (single phase). Do not attempt to run it on any other voltage.

Frequently Asked Questions about Mondī™ Pumps

Q: My pump doesn't start, or works intermittently. Should I bring it in for warranty service?

A: Before returning your pump you should check your power cord for any damage. If you regularly pick up the pump by its power cord you have may have damaged it. Any damage to the power cord that's caused by improper use is not covered under the warranty. You should also check the power source to determine whether you have a blown fuse, or have tripped the circuit breaker. If this is the case replace the fuse and/or reset the circuit breaker. You may also have low line voltage. If you find no problems with your power cord or power source please return the product to the retailer for further inspection.

Q: Why is my pump leaking? Is something wrong?

A: If you are using the Mondī™ 1200X Utility & Sump pump then this is completely normal. This pump is designed to release water and what may appear to be a leak is actually a design feature to help it run cooler and more efficiently.

Q: My pump turns on but pumps little or no water. What might be wrong with it?

A: It's possible that there is debris caught in the pump, due to dirty water being pumped through it. Unfortunately, our warranty doesn't cover any damage that occurs due to using dirty and debris-laden water, so always ensure that the water you use with your pump is clean and free of any debris. If you have to pump debris-laden water through the pump always use a filter bag.

Q: Why did my pump stop working unexpectedly?

A: This is often caused by not supplying the pump with an adequate amount of water volume, which causes the pump to over-heat. Increase the water volume to resolve the problem. Please keep in mind that you are responsible for ensuring your pump has the correct amount of water volume to operate properly, and any damage that occurs due to inadequate water volume or supply is not covered under the warranty.

Q: Are there replacement parts available for those whose warranty has run out?

A: As these are sealed units, once they are opened they are no longer UL approved. Therefore, we are prohibited from selling any replacement parts.
